

Dr. Markus Robert Vogt

BASF SE,

Head of Business Management and Advocacy, Battery Materials, Europa.

After graduation in Surface Chemistry and Catalysis, Markus spend his first years in his industrial career working on Fuel Cells for automotive applications at Los Alamos National Lab, Degussa (Evonik), dmc2, Umicore and BASF Future Business GmbH.

In 2009, Markus joined BASF SE and got responsibility for business development in the newly established battery materials team. Since 2015, Markus held the position as Head Sales/ Business Management Battery Materials, Europe and was responsible for BASFs' commercial activities in Europe as well as for the relationship to the European OEMs and cell manufacturers.

From 2020 onwards, Markus took addition care for Battery related advocacy for BASF on Battery materials and was responsible for BASF in the IPCEI (Important Project of Common European Interest).